DAY 1

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels, YouTube Shorts

Content Type: Talking head (direct to camera)

Theme: 3 — Creator's Personal Story

Hook: "The year I got out of the Army, I was the most lost I've ever been — and I was smiling the whole time."

Content Angle: Open with the contrast between appearing fine and the internal reality of transition. The silence after separation. The identity confusion. How discipline alone isn't enough without direction. Honest and raw — not polished.

CTA: "If this sounds familiar, follow. I'm going to share everything I wish I'd known."

DAY 2

Platform(s): LinkedIn

Content Type: Long-form text post

Theme: 1 — Veteran Transition Struggles

Hook: "Nobody in out-processing told me that losing my rank would feel like losing myself."

Content Angle: A personal post about identity loss in veteran transition. Written in first person, specific, emotionally honest. Talks about the imposter syndrome in corporate settings, the hollow feeling of civilian small talk, the grief that nobody names. Ends with what changed.

CTA: "Veterans who've been through this — what was the hardest part nobody warned you about? Drop it below."

DAY 3

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Text overlay with voiceover

Theme: 5 — Myth-Busting

Hook: "Veterans are told 'your skills are transferable.' Here's what they don't tell you."

Content Angle: Bust the myth that military skills automatically translate without any effort. Skills ARE transferable — but you have to learn the civilian language for them, and no one teaches you that. Break down 3 skills and show what the military version looks like vs. what civilians pay for.

CTA: "Save this. Your LinkedIn profile is probably missing all three of these."

DAY 4

Platform(s): YouTube Shorts, TikTok

Content Type: Talking head — rapid fire format

Theme: 2 — Tactical Tips

Hook: "5 VA benefits most veterans aren't using — and one of them could be worth $30,000."

Content Angle: Quick-hit rundown: VR&E / Chapter 31 education benefits, VA home loan guarantee, VGLI life insurance, disability compensation filing, VA healthcare enrollment. Each one gets 3–5 seconds. Fast, punchy, factual. Not a lecture — a checklist.

CTA: "Which one surprised you? Comment the number. I'll do a deep-dive on the ones you ask about."

DAY 5

Platform(s): Instagram Reels, TikTok

Content Type: Talking head

Theme: 9 — Mental Resilience

Hook: "I drank more the year I got out than any year in the military. I've never said that publicly before."

Content Angle: Honest look at the alcohol and substance piece of veteran transition — not from a clinical perspective, but from lived experience. Normalizes the conversation without glorifying it. Pivots to what actually helped: structure, movement, accountability, community.

CTA: "If this resonates, send it to a veteran who needs to hear it. Not as a diagnosis — just as a reminder they're not alone."

DAY 6

Platform(s): LinkedIn

Content Type: Carousel (5–7 slides)

Theme: 6 — Military-to-Civilian Translation

Hook: "How to translate your military experience on a resume — without sounding like a different language."

Content Angle: Slide 1 is the hook. Slides 2–6 show a military job description language vs. civilian translation for common MOS categories: infantry, logistics, intelligence, medical, communications. Final slide is the framework to do it yourself.

CTA: "Save and share with a veteran who's job hunting. The translation is the gap — and it's fixable."

DAY 7

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels, YouTube Shorts

Content Type: Talking head — storytime format

Theme: 3 — Creator's Personal Story

Hook: "I had a VA loan benefit sitting unused for years because nobody told me how to use it. Here's what I did when I finally figured it out."

Content Angle: The story of discovering the VA home loan benefit, what house hacking is, and using it to acquire a property that generates income. Not a flex — a lesson. Specific, honest about the learning curve.

CTA: "Comment 'VA LOAN' and I'll send you the free breakdown I wish someone had given me."

DAY 8

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Text overlay + voiceover

Theme: 5 — Myth-Busting

Hook: "'Just network.' — The worst advice anyone gives veterans. Here's what actually works."

Content Angle: Deconstruct the generic "networking" advice and why it fails veterans specifically (it feels transactional, it rewards extroversion, it assumes social capital veterans often don't have). Replace it with a tactical framework: identify targets, offer value first, use veteran networks intentionally, leverage your unique credibility.

CTA: "Which networking tactic has actually worked for you? Drop it below."

DAY 9

Platform(s): LinkedIn

Content Type: Long-form text post

Theme: 7 — Financial Literacy for Veterans

Hook: "When I separated, I had no budget, no financial plan, and no idea what I was entitled to from the VA. Here's the financial reset that changed everything."

Content Angle: Walk through the 5-part financial baseline for veterans: know your income (all sources including VA comp), know your fixed expenses, know your variable spend, know your net worth, know your VA benefits. Practical, not preachy.

CTA: "Drop 'AUDIT' in the comments and I'll share the exact template I use."

DAY 10

Platform(s): TikTok, YouTube Shorts

Content Type: Talking head — direct

Theme: 1 — Veteran Transition Struggles

Hook: "The hardest part of getting out isn't the job search. It's sitting in a room full of people and feeling like you're from a different planet."

Content Angle: Civilian imposter syndrome. The gap between military culture and corporate culture. How veterans often over-explain or under-explain their experience. Validate the feeling, then offer a reframe: the gap is real, but it's a skill problem, not an identity problem. Skills can be learned.

CTA: "Follow for more on bridging that gap. I'm dropping a full series this week."

DAY 11

Platform(s): Instagram Reels, TikTok

Content Type: Text overlay — punchy list

Theme: 2 — Tactical Tips

Hook: "3 things veterans should do in the first 90 days after separation (most do none of them)."

Content Angle: 1) Enroll in VA healthcare — even if you feel fine, because it establishes a baseline and you never know. 2) File a disability claim — document everything now while it's fresh and your separation physical is recent. 3) Talk to a VR&E counselor before choosing how to use your GI Bill, because VR&E may be better for your specific situation.

CTA: "Share this with a veteran in their first year out. The clock is ticking on some of these."

DAY 12

Platform(s): LinkedIn, YouTube Shorts

Content Type: Talking head / interview format

Theme: 10 — Leadership & Purpose Post-Service

Hook: "You were trained to lead people through impossible situations. What do you do with that when the mission is gone?"

Content Angle: The purpose gap in veteran transition. How military leadership training is genuinely elite — and how most veterans are using none of it in their civilian lives. What civic leadership, mentorship, and community engagement look like as a channel for that drive.

CTA: "If you're a veteran who has found a post-service mission — I want to hear it. Drop it in the comments."

DAY 13

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Talking head — vulnerable, slower pace

Theme: 1 — Veteran Transition Struggles

Hook: "I didn't know I was grieving. I thought I was just adjusting."

Content Angle: The grief cycle of separation — an angle almost no one talks about. You grieve the mission, the community, the identity, the structure. Validating that grief is not weakness — it's the beginning of the rebuild. Named grief can be processed; unnamed grief becomes isolation, substance use, or rage.

CTA: "Save this. Share it with a veteran who's 'adjusting.' Sometimes naming the thing changes everything."

DAY 14

Platform(s): Instagram (carousel), LinkedIn

Content Type: Carousel — educational

Theme: 8 — Real Estate & VA Loan

Hook: "The VA home loan is not just for buying a house. Here's how veterans are using it to generate income."

Content Angle: 7-slide carousel explaining: what the VA home loan is, the zero-down feature, how it can be used for multi-unit properties (2–4 units), what house hacking is, a basic example of the numbers, and what the first step looks like. No jargon. Clean and actionable.

CTA: "Save this and share with a veteran homebuyer. This benefit disappears if you don't use it intentionally."

DAY 15

Platform(s): TikTok, YouTube Shorts

Content Type: Talking head — authority / credibility

Theme: 4 — Course Teasers

Hook: "I built a 12-week system for veterans in transition. Here's what module 1 covers — and why most veterans skip it."

Content Angle: Tease the identity module. Talk about why identity reconstruction is the most important and most avoided part of veteran transition. Give a genuine preview of the content — what the values clarification exercise looks like, why it matters. Leaves the viewer wanting the full version.

CTA: "Link in bio to learn more about MISSION REBUILD™. First cohort is opening soon."

DAY 16

Platform(s): LinkedIn

Content Type: Long-form text post

Theme: 6 — Military-to-Civilian Translation

Hook: "Military leadership experience is worth more than most veterans think — but only if you can explain it in English."

Content Angle: Walk through how to describe leadership experience from the military in civilian terms that resonate in job interviews. Real examples: "I managed a team of 12" vs. "I led a 12-person team operating under extreme time pressure and resource constraints, achieving X result." Show the difference concretely.

CTA: "Copy this framework and apply it to your next job interview. Then tell me how it went."

DAY 17

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Text overlay + voiceover — rapid fire

Theme: 7 — Financial Literacy for Veterans

Hook: "Your VA disability rating is not just a number. Here's what it actually determines."

Content Angle: Break down what disability ratings mean: the monthly compensation amounts at different rating levels (with rough figures), the combined ratings math, what a 100% P&T rating unlocks (Champ VA, DEA, property tax exemptions in many states, etc.). Most veterans significantly underfile.

CTA: "If you've never filed or you think your rating is too low — comment 'APPEAL' and I'll show you the next step."

DAY 18

Platform(s): TikTok, YouTube Shorts, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Talking head — storytime

Theme: 3 — Creator's Personal Story

Hook: "I sat in a CS class at 26 feeling like the oldest person alive — not because of my age, but because I'd already buried people."

Content Angle: The experience of going back to school on the GI Bill after years of service. The social dissonance. The value of the education in retrospect. How to reframe the college experience as an investment, not just a credential. Practical advice for GI Bill students.

CTA: "Veterans using the GI Bill — what's the biggest adjustment nobody warned you about? I'm reading every comment."

DAY 19

Platform(s): LinkedIn, Instagram (carousel)

Content Type: Carousel — myth-busting format

Theme: 5 — Myth-Busting

Hook: "5 things veterans believe about civilian careers that are costing them jobs."

Content Angle: Slide 1 hook. Slides 2–6: Myth 1 — "My resume should explain everything" (no, it should start conversations). Myth 2 — "Networking is for extroverts" (no, it's a skill). Myth 3 — "The strongest candidate gets the job" (relationships and communication matter more than credentials). Myth 4 — "I need another degree" (often, no). Myth 5 — "I'm overqualified because I'm military" (reframe this immediately).

CTA: "Save this before your next job application. Tag a veteran who needs it."

DAY 20

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Talking head — challenge/direct

Theme: 9 — Mental Resilience

Hook: "If you're a veteran who's been 'fine' for years — this is for you."

Content Angle: The "I'm fine" performance that many veterans maintain for years while slowly eroding underneath. The practical cost of untreated stress, poor sleep, alcohol, and isolation. Not a clinical lecture — a peer-to-peer conversation from someone who was doing it. What the practical alternatives look like.

CTA: "If you know a veteran who needs to hear this, send it to them. No message required. Just the video."

DAY 21

Platform(s): YouTube Shorts, TikTok

Content Type: Talking head — course spotlight

Theme: 4 — Course Teasers

Hook: "Most veterans have $10,000+ in VA benefits they've never claimed. Here's what's inside the VA Benefits module of MISSION REBUILD™."

Content Angle: Genuine preview of the VA Benefits Deep Dive module. Walk through what it covers: disability comp filing, VR&E, VA home loan, VA healthcare, VGLI. Show the VA Benefits Maximizer Toolkit briefly. Make the case that this one module pays for the course many times over.

CTA: "Enrollment opens [DATE]. Link in bio. This content alone is worth more than the course price."

DAY 22

Platform(s): LinkedIn

Content Type: Long-form post — reflective/thought leadership

Theme: 10 — Leadership & Purpose Post-Service

Hook: "Veterans are some of the most civic-ready people in America. Most of us are not acting like it."

Content Angle: The case for veteran civic engagement — not as a feel-good talking point, but as a genuine deployment of skills. Local government, school boards, nonprofit leadership, business ownership with community impact. How to identify your civic mission and begin operating in it.

CTA: "What's the post-service mission you're building toward? Or what's stopping you from finding one? I'm genuinely asking."

DAY 23

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Talking head — before/after

Theme: 3 — Creator's Personal Story

Hook: "Before: no budget, no VA benefits, no plan. After: duplex owner, product manager, financially free from anxiety. Here's the gap."

Content Angle: Honest before/after of the creator's transition. Not a highlight reel — a real accounting of what was broken and what it took to fix it. Focused on the systems and decisions that made the difference, not luck or talent.

CTA: "If you're in the 'before' — the 'after' is a system, not a personality trait. Follow for the system."

DAY 24

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels, YouTube Shorts

Content Type: Text overlay + voiceover — rapid fire

Theme: 2 — Tactical Tips

Hook: "The budgeting system that actually works for veterans (not the Dave Ramsey version)."

Content Angle: A veteran-specific budgeting framework that accounts for irregular VA comp payments, GI Bill stipends, BAH, and deployment-era saving patterns. Practical, direct, no moralizing. The zero-based budget adapted for veteran income streams.

CTA: "Save this and use it. The template I built for this is free — comment 'BUDGET' and I'll drop the link."

DAY 25

Platform(s): LinkedIn, Instagram (carousel)

Content Type: Carousel — educational

Theme: 8 — Real Estate & VA Loan

Hook: "How I used a VA loan to buy a property that pays me every month. The exact numbers."

Content Angle: A detailed, honest breakdown of one real estate deal using a VA home loan for a duplex. Numbers included (mortgage, rent income, cash flow, equity). Walk through the decision logic, the financing process, and what the first year looked like. No guru energy — just a case study.

CTA: "Questions on the numbers? Drop them below and I'll answer every one."

DAY 26

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Talking head — vulnerable/direct

Theme: 1 — Veteran Transition Struggles

Hook: "The isolation after service is real. And it's more dangerous than most veterans want to admit."

Content Angle: The social isolation piece — losing the built-in tribe of the military and how hard it is to rebuild that in civilian life. The impact of isolation on mental health, decision-making, and risk behavior. What rebuilding community actually looks like — not tips about joining clubs, but the hard, slow work of making real connections as an adult.

CTA: "Have you found your post-service tribe? Tell me what that looked like. Because this is something I think about a lot."

DAY 27

Platform(s): LinkedIn

Content Type: Long-form text post

Theme: 7 — Financial Literacy for Veterans

Hook: "The 5 financial moves veterans should make in the first year out — in order."

Content Angle: A ranked, sequential financial to-do list: 1) Get VA healthcare enrolled (protects you from catastrophic medical costs). 2) File disability claim (establishes tax-free income if eligible). 3) Build a 3-month emergency fund before anything else. 4) Eliminate high-interest debt. 5) Begin building (investment account, real estate, business). Explains why the order matters.

CTA: "Print this and put it on your wall. Or at least save it. Then tell me which step you're on."

DAY 28

Platform(s): TikTok, YouTube Shorts, Instagram Reels

Content Type: Talking head — course spotlight

Theme: 4 — Course Teasers

Hook: "A veteran just told me the financial module paid for the course 20 times over. Here's exactly what he did."

Content Angle: Retell (with permission/placeholder) the story of a veteran discovering and filing for VA disability back pay using the tools inside the program. Walk through what was discovered, how the claim was filed, and what the outcome was. Real, specific, with dollar figures if possible.

CTA: "Enrollment for MISSION REBUILD™ is open. Link in bio. This could be your story."

DAY 29

Platform(s): Instagram Reels, TikTok

Content Type: Text overlay + voiceover — motivational but grounded

Theme: 9 — Mental Resilience

Hook: "Discipline kept me alive after I got out. Purpose is what made me want to be alive."

Content Angle: The difference between discipline and purpose — and why discipline without purpose produces high-functioning misery. How to begin identifying what you care about, what you're building toward, and how to let that become the engine rather than willpower alone.

CTA: "This one took me years to understand. If it resonates — save it for the day you need the reminder."

DAY 30

Platform(s): TikTok, Instagram Reels, YouTube Shorts, LinkedIn

Content Type: Talking head — direct invitation

Theme: 4 — Course Teasers / 10 — Leadership & Purpose

Hook: "This is the content I wish existed when I got out of the Army. Now it does."

Content Angle: Direct, final invitation to join MISSION REBUILD™. Recap the journey — the struggle, the system, the rebuild. Who the program is for. What it costs. What it covers. Speak directly to the veteran who has been watching the content but hasn't made a move. Make the case one final time — honest, specific, no hype.

CTA: "The door is open. Link in bio. Claim your spot. Start the rebuild."

POSTING NOTES AND PLATFORM GUIDANCE

TikTok / Instagram Reels

- Optimal length: 60–90 seconds for educational content; 15–30 seconds for punchy list/text overlay content
- Hook delivery: First 3 seconds must be spoken or displayed — no silent intros, no music-only intros
- Caption strategy: Repeat the hook in the caption, add relevant hashtags (#VeteranTransition #MilitaryToVeteran #VeteranBusiness #VABenefits #VeteranFinance)
- Engagement: Reply to every comment in the first 2 hours — the algorithm rewards engagement velocity
- Repurposing: Most TikTok and Reels content can be posted on both platforms with identical or slightly modified captions

YouTube Shorts

- Optimal length: 50–59 seconds (leaves room for CTA without going over)
- Thumbnail: Auto-generated from video, but front-load the most visually compelling frame
- Description: Include the full CTA, email sign-up link, and course link in every description
- Repurposing: Shorts can often be repurposed from TikTok/Reels content with a slight format adjustment for vertical framing

LinkedIn

- Long-form posts: 150–300 words with line breaks every 1–2 sentences for mobile readability
- Carousels: 5–10 slides; first slide is the hook/cover, last slide is always the CTA
- Tone: Slightly more professional than TikTok but still personal and direct — LinkedIn rewards authenticity from individuals, not press releases
- Hashtags: 3–5 maximum. Use #Veterans #VeteranLeadership #MilitaryTransition #CareerDevelopment
- Posting time: Tuesday–Thursday, 8–10am or 12–1pm local time for maximum reach
- Engagement: Comments generate reach — respond to every comment within the day

Cross-Platform Content Repurposing Matrix

| Original Format | Repurpose to |

|-----|-----|

| Talking head video (TikTok) | Reels, YouTube Short, LinkedIn video |

| LinkedIn long-form text post | TikTok text overlay script |

| Instagram carousel | LinkedIn carousel |

| YouTube Short | TikTok, Reels |

| Community story/testimonial | All platforms (different formats) |

Lead Magnet Integration

- Every piece of content should have a path to the Veteran Rebuild Checklist (free lead magnet)
- Bio links: Use a link-in-bio tool (Linktree or similar) with the lead magnet as the primary CTA
- Comment automations: Set up keyword triggers ("AUDIT," "BUDGET," "VA LOAN," "APPEAL") to auto-deliver the lead magnet link or relevant resource via DM

Content Batching Recommendation

- Film 10–15 talking head segments per session
- Design 4–6 carousel decks per session

- Write 8–10 LinkedIn posts per session
- Batch, schedule 2 weeks ahead, and monitor performance weekly
- Double down on any piece that exceeds average reach/engagement — repurpose it in a new format
